An Open Letter to Highway Chairman Glenn Wallace

(Editorial)

Mr. Glenn Wallace
Chairman, State Highway Commission
Nashville, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Wallace: The purpose of this letter is to call to mind that night in November 1956 when you telephoned me your unqualified support of Highway Director Herbert Eldridge.

The situation was this: My business associate, Walter E. Hussman, publisher of the Camden News, had written for The News and associated papers in southwest Arkansas an editorial questioning whether the Arkansas Highway Commission was giving Mr. Eldridge the support adequate to maintain him as the working head of an autonomous, non-political department — spelled out by the Mack-Blackwell constitutional amendment.

Mr. Hussman repeated the editorial as a paid advertisement in the Little Rock newspapers.

But the editorial never appeared in my own paper — for the specific reason that it took you to task as a Highway Commission member. I knew you personally, and was confident you would do the right thing for the people and for good government.

On the day the paid Little Rock publications came out, you telephoned me from your home in Nashville that night and asked, "What sort of fellow is Hussman?" I told you he's just a guy who honestly believes in the Mack-Blackwell Amendment and keeping the State Highway Department out of politics. I added that I was sorry Hussman had put your name in the piece because I had confidence in you — and for that reason I didn't run the editorial in Hope.

And then, Glenn, you made this unsolicited statement over the telephone, quoted from memory of course: "Your confidence is justified. I will defend Herbert Eldridge now and in the future. When Eldridge goes, Glenn Wallace goes, too."

Now Eldridge is gone — whether by firing or resignation is immaterial.

Speaking personally and for the people of southwest Arkansas where you live, Glenn, I think you should resign from the State Highway Commission.

No other one act in all Arkansas could do so much to make the people realize what they have lost in the ousting of Herbert Eldridge and the scuttling of the non-political Highway Department.

I appeal to you to bolster the hopes and aspirations of all the friends of good government by showing them that you were truly behind Eldridge to the finish — as you told me you were in November 1956 — and following him out of public office today.

Your good friend —

Wallace Replies to Request for His Resignation

HOPE, Ark. (AP)—A Hope news-publisher today called upon Chairman Glenn P. Wallace to resign from the Arkansas Highway Commission in support of retiring director Herbert Eldridge.

In reply Wallace declared that "if I feel the principles of the Mack-Blackwell amendment are at any time being violated by the Arkansas Highway Commission and I am unable to do anything about it, I will resign from the commission."

Publisher Alex H. Washburn of the Hope Star said that Wallace told him in November, 1956, that if Eldridge left the Arkansas Highway set-up, so would Wallace. He said Wallace should now do just that.

Wallace, contacted at his home at Nashville, said he couldn't remember the wording of his remarks in the conversation Washburn recalled.

But he said his brief statement today represented the attitude he has held during his six years on the commission and the attitude he now has.

In reply to a question, he said he didn't feel there had been any deviation from Mack-Blackwell principles up to now.

The Mack-Blackwell amendment to which both men referred, is a constitutional provision adopted by Arkansas voters in 1952. It attempted to set up the five-member Highway Commission as an independent agency, to which normally any governor could appoint no more than two members.

Because of death of one commissioner, Gov. Orval E. Faubus already has appointed three commissioners. He will make a fourth appointment when he formally embarks on his third term next week.

Eldridge resigned as director last Monday amid speculation that he was being forced out by political pressure. The commissioners said they had not asked him to resign and declared that Faubus had not interfered in the matter.

In an open letter to Wallace, Washburn quoted the chairman as saying in 1956 that "if I will defend Herbert Eldridge now and in the future. When Eldridge goes, Glenn Wallace goes, too."

Washburn noted that he was quoting from memory.

The Washburn letter then concluded: "Now Eldridge is gone—whether by firing or resignation is immaterial."

15 Children, One Adult Burned to Death in Home

BOSWELL, Okla. (AP)—Fifteen children and an adult died today in a roaring fire in a four-room wooden home.

All the bodies except that of one child were piled on and around a bed in a rear room which had no outside door.

Apparently someone pushed the one child out a window but the child was dead.

The victims were Sara Gardner, 38; her 10 children; three orphaned nieces; and two visiting nephews from Oklahoma City.

All the victims were Negroes. Booker Gardner, the father, had been away hunting.

Almost in shock and his face haggard, Gardner, a Negro, walked about aimlessly, apparently unable to comprehend immediately the disaster which struck his family.

He said that when he started home from his hunting trip before dawn this morning, "I felt sorta funny."

He received the news at the farm home of Vernon Love, who drove him to the disaster scene.

Gardner told Tony Price, reporter of the Paris (Tex.) News, that he started on a hunt about 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night and hunted all night. Hunting with him was a nephew from Oklahoma City, who was visiting in the home.

Gardner is a day laborer in this southern Oklahoma town of about 1,000 population.

He listed the victims as: Juana, 15; Easter, 13; Isaac, 11; Larry, 9; Louise, 8; Gwen, 7; Omie, 5; John Anthony, 2; and Patricia Ann and Patricia Jan, 8-week old twins, and three nieces and two nephews.

The nieces, children of Mrs. Gardner's sister, May Ruth Haddix, were: Bobbie Wainwright, 11; Peggy Sue Ward, 10; and Linda Fay Ward, 4. Mrs. Haddix was killed in an automobile accident last spring.

The two nephews, visiting from Oklahoma City, were: Hershel Frazier, 9, and Freddie Webb, 12.

The volunteer fire department could only use a pumper truck because no hydrant was within usable distance.

Constable J. B. Rieburg said the roof had collapsed before firemen arrived.

Gardner said when he left for his hunting trip, two slaves, burning wood were in use. Richardson said he believed the disaster was caused by the slaves. He said the family apparently panicked when the fire was discovered and ran into one room.

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle today became first president of the Fifth French Republic and France's most powerful chief of state since Emperor Napoleon III was deposed in 1870.

"The first among Frenchmen is henceforth first-ranking man in France," intoned out-going President Rene Coty.

A 21-gun salute boomed across the Seine as diminutive Gen. Georges Catroux reached up to hang the gold necktie of office around the neck of his towering World War II comrade and commander.

The brief ceremony in the presidential Elysee Palace marked the end of the largely figurehead role which French presidents had filled under the Fourth Republic. The new constitution De Gaulle rammed through last summer converted the office into one of real power, along the lines of the U.S. presidency.

Coty, the beloved, 78-year-old outgoing chief of state, told his solemn-faced successor: "The people of France, so divided on the surface, have found around you their profound unity."

De Gaulle's elevation ended seven years of the "l'etat de siege" which had been a constant theme of the house.

Usually officers have to search until they find it and even then ownership is often denied. Many times someone else will claim the rights, depending on whether the owner of the house has been arrested on a liquor charge previously.

Officers report theft of a wrist watch owned by Gracie Lee Williams and hub caps stolen from an auto at Davis Pontiac Co.

Three important meetings are slated for tonight — the VFW meets at 8 o'clock at the Hut on Highway 87... and the Hempstead County Wildlife Association meets at 7:30 at the Courthouse... Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 will confer a Masters Degree Friday night at 7:30.

Jay Franks and his "Rockets of Rhythm" will play at Hope Youth Center Friday night... the dance starts at 8 o'clock and lasts four hours... this is a very popular band, well-liked here... all students in Hope and surrounding area are invited to attend.

State Trying to Get Status of University

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Reports of growing opposition to Arkansas State College's bid to gain university status persisted today, but no official word was given by the state.

The issue may come to a head when supporters of the Jonesboro school's ambitions hold a dinner here Wednesday for members of the Legislature and other state officials.

These were comments in the capital yesterday.

John T. Caldwell, president of the University of Arkansas, "It's not up to us to say what another college will do."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, "I've been invited to the Arkansas State dinner, and I will attempt to attend. However, my attendance would have no significance (on the issue) one way or the other."

Reports circulated here that still opposition may come from supporters of the University of Arkansas, who have worked in the past to retain the Fayetteville institution's status as the state's only university.

I will be up to the Legislature to say whether Arkansas State may become a university. One legislator who declined to be identified said yesterday the state's six other colleges are supporting Arkansas State's bid.

Message to Stress Home Responsibility

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—The central theme of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday will be the importance of maintaining fiscal responsibility at home while carrying on the fight for enduring world peace.

The White House so indicated today in repeating, as Press Secretary James C. Hagerty put it, that "it will be not only a State of the Union message, but a 'State of the World' message."

Eisenhower will deliver the message personally at a joint Senate-House session. His 40-minute talk, beginning about 12:30 will be carried on major television and radio networks.

Hagerty also said the President is determined to use every opportunity, in all possible forms, to seek public support for the legislative program he will put before Congress.

The State of the Union report will be followed on Jan. 1 by the President's budget message.

President Asks Courtesy for Visiting Russian

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, holding demonstrations against Anastas Mikoyan in this country, today called for courteous treatment of the Soviet visitor.

The White House made it clear that Eisenhower is disturbed by these demonstrations against the Soviet deputy premier, now touring the United States.

In Cleveland Wednesday, Mikoyan was greeted by chanting, shouting, sign-waving demonstrators. One young woman, identified as a Hungarian refugee, was arrested for throwing a rock in the general direction of the Russian party.

Protesting pickets also were on hand at Detroit when Mikoyan arrived there today.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, was asked at a news conference about the President's reaction to such demonstrations. Hagerty promptly pulled out a prepared statement.

Before reading it, Hagerty said he had discussed the demonstrations with Eisenhower.

"The President has asked me to say this," Hagerty went on. "The President hopes that wherever he goes in this country, Mr. Mikoyan will be met with the courtesy Americans traditionally show visitors from abroad."

"The President wants Mr. Mikoyan to see the real America, so that when he returns home he will be able to carry an accurate picture of our good manners, as well as our strength, our confidence, and our determination in the cause of freedom and peace."

Asked whether Eisenhower feels that demonstrations against Mikoyan do not reflect a true picture of America, Hagerty simply repeated the President's statement — dealing with Eisenhower's hope Americans will show Mikoyan traditional courtesy.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan piles up more mileage through the Midwest today as he heads for Detroit in his fast-stopping drive for firmer peace and better trade relations between the United States and Russia.

The Soviet deputy premier met with some of the Midwest's wealthiest industrialists here Wednesday in a visit marked sporadically with bitter street demonstrations by Hungarian Freedom Fighters and immigrants from other Iron Curtain countries.

Among the welcoming dignitaries at the airport was Walker L. Cislir, president of Detroit Edison and Mikoyan's official Detroit host.

In his brief airport talk, Mikoyan reiterated a desire for peace between the United States and Russia saying "My best wish is that there be no war between our two countries or any other countries."

He noted that the two countries lived under different systems of government but said this should not prevent them getting along together.

At the Ford research labs the Russian delegation entered quickly. No pickets were in sight.

Mikoyan was whisked through the labs and on to the giant Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. The Rouge factories sprawl over 1,200 acres, employ 40,000 men and are generally rated the largest one-company development anywhere.

Cuban Plane Near Missile Site Ignored

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—An armed B-26 Cuban bomber flew within striking distance of the missile test center on Cape Canaveral to land here New Year's Day and never was challenged by U.S. Air Defense, the Daytona Beach Morning Journal said today.

"Apparently the Air Force doesn't believe the enemy would bomb the Cape," the newspaper quoted a federal aviation spokesman. The Pentagon in Washington began checking the report, the paper said.

Two Cuban Air Force men fleeing after the downfall of President Fulgencio Batista's government landed the plane here, seeking asylum.

They told the Morning Journal they flew into the United States without a flight plan and made no radio contact during the 300-mile trip up the coast until they called the tower at Daytona Beach Municipal Airport for landing instructions.

"They said they knew how to fly the 'U.S. airways,' apparently meaning the authorized route up the East Coast."

First Lt. Chester J. Laewe, public information officer at Nellis Air Force Base, Ga., said doubling the 32nd Air Division log nor the log of the 600th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., contained information on the plane.

The 600th monitors air traffic headed north, Laewe said. When a plane penetrates the defense zone and no flight plan is found, F-80 fighters from McCoy Air Force Base at Orlando check it out.

Elbert H. Chambers, chief of the Federal Aviation Agency (formerly the CAA) at the Daytona Beach airport, said he understood the tower had no knowledge of the Cubans until they asked for landing instructions near "Titusville, 47 miles south of here and about 17 air miles from Cape Canaveral."

Asked how the Cubans managed to fly so near the Cape unchallenged, Chambers said the areas immediately overhead and east of the Cape are restricted. But he said the area west of the Cape is not restricted and not in a defense zone.

Sen. Johnson Apparently Has Confidence

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate moved toward a quick first showdown in the filibuster fight today with the immediate issue narrowed to the question whether to throw the Senate rules open for revision.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, agreed to the move and pushed it along then enunciated plans to try to kill the proposal for new rules by means of a motion to table.

The situation was set up by an agreement from Johnson to let the Senate take up first the proposal to adopt new rules sponsored by forces which want lighter curbs on long talk. The plan was offered as a substitute for a compromise proposal by Johnson himself. The Democratic leader obtained unanimous consent to go into the proposal immediately and then announced his tabling plan.

Against the background of the slimmer fight over civil rights and integration legislation, Johnson had proposed some tightening of the rules for cutting off debate. But he had not gone nearly as far as the strong opponents of the filibuster wanted. And his plan would have reaffirmed the principle that the old rules which make debate hard to cut off apply over.

A motion to table is not debatable and once made would cut off further discussion. However, Johnson said he would, consult with both sides and see that they had an adequate opportunity for debate before making his motion.

The sponsor of record for the resolution before the Senate is Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-Mo.).

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the new Republican leader, objected to any strategy which would force a night session.

Johnson told Dirksen he would not handle the affair so as to inconvenience anybody.

I response to a parliamentary inquiry Vice President Richard M. Nixon held that under the rules Anderson's motion would have to lie over one day before it could be acted on.

Johnson said however that he was willing to waive this rule in the interest of obtaining a prompt vote. No one objected when he asked for a unanimous consent agreement to this effect.

Leaders of the coalition group favor a rule that would permit debates to be shut off by a majority of the Senate membership or 60 votes.

The present rule requires the votes of 60 senators or two-thirds of the entire membership. Johnson's compromise would reduce this to two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) chief strategist for Southern forces in the rules fight, offered a new challenge to Nixon's ruling that each Senate session can adopt its own rules but Nixon did not change his position.

As the Senate plunged into the rules scrap today, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), the assistant majority leader, defended Johnson against charges of high-handed tactics.

Mansfield said there had been "talk of hijacking and blackjacking" because Johnson had jumped the gun on the bipartisan coalition by acting first.

But Mansfield said he wanted to make it clear that Johnson's move would not prevent the Senate from voting on any and all alternate proposals for revising the Senate's anti-filibuster rule.

Judge to Issue School Order This Week

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U. S. District Judge John E. Miller will issue an order this week designed to clear up some of the confusion in the tangled Little Rock school integration case.

"The litigation cannot go on and on," Miller said after a hearing yesterday on an order of the Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for immediate integration. "It's time, we looked, the school situation here in the face."

Miller said he would try to write an opinion that would be helpful, but he did not indicate what steps he would order.

He said his opinion probably will be issued Friday.

Yesterday's hearing was on a mandate of the appeals court directing Miller to order the Little Rock School Board from leasing public property to a private group for operation -- as -- segregated

Lawford to Apply for U. S. Citizenship

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Peter Lawford, he of the shaggy eyebrows and British accent, applies for U. S. citizenship this month, but dreads the storm of abuse he'll receive in his native England.

"The English shouldn't be upset about it," he sighed, "but I'm sure I'll be blasted by the press over there. It happens with everybody."

Lawford, star of "The Thin Man" series on TV, has worked and lived in this country since 1940, retaining his English citizenship more from sloth than for practical reasons.

The mandate also orders Miller to spell out steps under which the board should implement integration even though the city's four public high schools have been closed by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

trifling reasons. "I should have become an American citizen years ago, but I'm a master of procrastination. And really, old man, I consider it a privilege to become a citizen after all these years," he quipped.

Games From Wealthy Family
"Actually, I do have some definite reasons for becoming an American. My three children (Christopher, 3; Sydney, 2; and John, 3 months) are all Americans, and I'd like to be a citizen of the same country."

"Being a citizen also helps you get in and out of the country easier when you want to travel."

Lawford came from a wealthy and distinguished family. His father was Gen. Sir Sidney Lawford — knighted for gallantry in battle. During the youth he family traveled throughout Europe and the United States.

As a boy Pete stayed at Florida's best hotels. But during World War II, when the family fortune evaporated, Pete went to work parking cars for the same plush hostesses.

"My home, my future, my life and my work are in this country," Lawford continued. "It's only right that I become a citizen."

No Tax Gimmick
"My decision has nothing to do with taxes. I've been paying them ever since I began working here. The real reason is that I feel more like an American than an Englishman."

Pete is married to the former Pat Kennedy, daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to the court of St. James, and sister of Sen. John Kennedy.

"I've been taking a lot of ribbing from my buddies about becoming an American citizen so I can vote for my brother-in-law in case he runs for president," Pete grinned. "But that's beside the point."

The actor's close friends are past masters at needing. He is a member of Hollywood "in group" which consists of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Tony Curtis and director Billy Wilder.

Lawford's future never looked brighter. His TV series has been renewed, and he will co-star with Sinatra in a new movie, "Ocean's 11."

He's also formed his own company, Kenlow Productions (not "Lid," either, by golly, and is producing a teleseries starring Carl Reiner, Sid Caesar's old sidekick.

Find $112,000 Aboard Yacht From Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Immigration Service reported today about $112,000 was found on two Cuban yachts anchored at Key West Fla. and carrying high dignitaries of the overthrown regime of President Fulgencio Batista.

The 38 men aboard the vessels claimed these were personal funds and were permitted to keep this cash officials said.

Inspectors reported that only an "insignificant" sum was found in possession of Rolando Masferrer, accused by the new Cuban government of fleeing with 17 million dollars.

Masferrer, a Cuban senator and close friend of Batista is owner of the newspaper El Tiempo. The new Cuban government—officially recognized Wednesday by the United States—proposes to demand his return to Cuba.

The Immigration Service said the bulk of the money found on the two yachts was held by one individual Rear Adm. Arturo Canelonell, 42, who had approximately $85,000.

In reporting the outcome of its check into reports a great haul of cash might be on the yacht, the Immigration Service also announced the processing of the passengers thus far has resulted in grants of admission to seven men.

The seven will be admitted on parole as political refugees. All are officers of the old Cuban navy who arrived at Key West on the Maria III once used by Batista as his personal yacht. Pell is one of the seven.

Earlier the Immigration Service reported that 312 Cuban refugees have arrived in the United States since the Batista government fell. Officials said 22 have been granted admission as temporary visitors and 83 given parole pending further investigation.

Game Brings Trouble to a Church

NEW YORK (AP) — A bingo game sponsored by a Bronx church went on as scheduled Wednesday despite the serving of a license suspension summons while the game was in progress.

The Church of the Holy Resurrection, the first group in the city to get a bingo license under a new state law that became effective here Jan. 1, was the first to suffer license suspension.

It proved a disturbing Christmas Day for the church, whose Ukrainian Orthodox congregation was celebrating the holiday under their ancient calendar.

The license suspension stemmed from a bingo game conducted under auspices of the church last summer. During that game three women won $1,000. They complained they never received the money.

Church officials said the lay operator of that game was responsible for nonpayment, not the church.

As the bingo session got under way Wednesday, Edward Doyle, assistant license commissioner, attempted to hand the summons to the Rev. Walter M. Propheta, dean of priests at the church.

The Rev. Mr. Propheta ignored the summons, and Doyle placed it on the clergyman's knees. It was brushed to the floor.

Official action against the church had been taken Tuesday night. The summons calls for the clergyman to appear in Magistrate's Court Jan. 22.

son (D-Tex.). They announced they would counter-attack by moving to set aside Johnson's resolution and take up instead a more far-reaching proposal for overhauling Senate rules.

This strategy was agreed on by Democratic and Republican senators who make up a steering committee of the anti-filibuster forces.

Johnson used his position as majority leader to seize the initiative at the opening session of the new Senate Wednesday and won the first skirmish in the rules battle.

But Sens. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) insisted the anti-filibuster coalition is far from licked. They also made clear they are banking on continued help from Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer, who sides with them in contending that each new Senate has the right to adopt its own rules by majority vote.

The point is important because if Nixon's view is sustained, a simple majority could vote to amend different rules without needing under the restrictions of prior rules. The rules now prohibit unlimited debate on any motion to change the rules.

Opposing that is the view that because only one-third of the senators are elected each two years, both the Senate and its rules continue from one session to the next.

The anti-filibuster forces had planned to open the battle with a motion by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) that the Senate take up for immediate consideration the adoption of rules for the new en months and a week as premier during which he became the undisputed leader of his country, as he had been at the end of World War II.

"During those crowded months he quelled the rebellion of nationalists in Algeria that had brought him back to office, revised the governmental structure of France, laid the foundation for new relations between France and her overseas territories, launched a tough program of economic austerity, saw elected a new National Assembly with a large majority pledged to support him and won the presidency of the new Fifth Republic by an overwhelming vote."

One of his first acts as president is expected to be the naming of Michel Debre, 46-year-old justice minister in his cabinet, to be premier of the new government.

Parole Board Refuses to Cut Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Convicted rapist Roy Newbold, who won a commutation of sentence from Gov. Orval E. Faubus despite objections of Greene County officials, lost a bid for a parole yesterday.

W. P. Ball, director of the state Board of Pardons and Paroles, said the board turned down Newbold's parole request because it felt unfavorable publicity following the commutation indicated strong opposition to his release.

Newbold was convicted in Greene Circuit Court in 1948, of raping his 25-year-old daughter, and was sentenced to life imprisonment. His sentence was cut by Faubus to 2 years, making him eligible for immediate parole.

The board voted to hold up Newbold's application for three months, Ball said, adding: "This does not mean he will be paroled then, but that we cannot even consider the application again before then."

Objections to Newbold's release were raised by Circuit Judge Charles W. Light of Paragould, Greene County Sheriff Bill Hyde and Prosecutor Terry Shell.

Newbold, 36, formerly operated a night club at Paragould. He entered the penitentiary Dec. 10, 1948.

After Faubus reduced Newbold's sentence, he said he did so on the provision that Newbold would never return to the Paragould area if he were released.

Newbold's petition was one of several acted on by the board. Those paroled and their date of sentence, crime and term, included:

Sebastian County — Willard Allison, April 30, 1957, burglary and grand larceny, 5 years; Billy Joe Green, April 26, 1957, burglary, 5 years; Lena Mae Morris, Oct. 10, 1956, voluntary manslaughter, 5 years.

Clark — Duke Madison Arnold, March 18, 1953, forgery and uttering, 3 years; Henry Rochell, July 28, 1958, grand larceny, on parol; Jefferson — Bobby Ray Atchison, Oct. 8, 1957, armed robbery, 2 years.

Congress. Instead, Johnson proposed a change in rules to permit filibusters to be halted by two-thirds of the senators present and voting. This contrasts with the present rule requiring the votes of 68 senators, or two-thirds of all 100 members, to shut off debate. It also contrasts with proposals to permit debate limitation by a majority of the members, or 50 senators.

Faubus Plans to See All Legislation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' administration are under orders to clear any legislation they seek through the governor's office before presenting it to the Legislature.

Faubus revealed that policy yesterday for the upcoming legislative session, which opens Tuesday. "This is so we can keep track of the entire legislative program and avoid duplication of work," Faubus said.

He told reporters at a news conference that department heads were warned not to lobby for bills in administration-sponsored unless the measures had been approved by his office.

The instructions were laid down at a 1½-hour staff meeting yesterday morning, the governor said. Faubus declined to discuss his legislative program at the news conference. He said he will not reveal it until he makes his third term inaugural address Tuesday.

He said he will spend three days in seclusion this week and writing the address.

Faubus said he knew of some departments which wanted to sponsor legislation and he was sure there were others which had not yet discussed their bills with him.

He mentioned specifically a bill to clear the way for conversion of the Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs to a vocational rehabilitation center, and another to provide additional personnel for the State Education Department to administer the new federal educational apaid up program.

The governor was certain that something would be done to change the 1957 property reassessment law but he was not specific. "Reassessment is a controversy with which we all have to deal," he said.

Daisy Workers Vote Against a Union

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — A proposal to unionize employees of the new Daisy Manufacturing Co. plant here was turned down yesterday by a vote of 343 to 115.

The AFL-CIO Machinist Union sought to become bargaining agent for the air rifle plant's workers.

announced that Eisenhower will submit a balanced budget calling for spending about 77 billion dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1. That is nearly three billion dollars less than estimated spending in the current year.

The White House announced today that the third major administration message to Congress, the President's annual economic report, will go to the Capitol Jan. 20.

The suggestion that Eisenhower may make a series of televised talks reflects an administration recognition that it probably will take a hard fight to hold spending to the level he proposes.

Cities to Ask 6 Concessions of Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Municipal League plans to ask the 1939 General Assembly for six concessions for cities and towns in their continuing battle to free themselves from state control.

Three of the measures involve revenue—either state turnback funds or that collected by the municipalities themselves.

Glenn J. Zimmerman, the league's executive director, said all the proposals were new, except a request for the legislature permit some form of home rule. The battle for home rule has been a recurring one but has not been fought recently.

Zimmerman said all the requests had been formalized except the one involving home rule. "We still have to decide exactly what we will ask for on that," he said. "But we need some sort of legislation to enable residents of municipalities to have the things they are willing to pay for."

"Tax collecting powers of municipalities presently is controlled at the state level, either constitutionally or by legislative acts. The revenue proposals deal with broadening of the municipalities' tax-gathering power within the framework of state control. These are:

1. Repeal of a 1927 act setting the bond limit for cities at five million dollars.
2. A larger share of general revenue funds collected by the state. This involves repeal of a 1937 law setting the amount of turnback at $2,310,000 annually.
3. Either an increase in turnback from highway funds or reinstatement of city licenses which were eliminated last year.

Air Force Plans to Fire the Titan

CABE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force is pushing ahead with plans to fire the Titan, the nation's newest and most powerful war rocket.

The 80-foot intercontinental range ballistic missile pushed fire and smoke Wednesday during a preliminary ground test of the first stage engine. If all went well in the static test, a launching was expected to follow in the near future.

Although the test lasted only seconds, it was learned that the attempt was successful.

Arkansas Easy for the Tall TCU Cagers

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Villanova's Wildcats, scraping away with blunted claws the last couple of basketball seasons, seem to have honed up a dandy this time around with a coach's dream parlay of height and speed.

The Wildcats, one of four unbeaten left in the nation's major school ranks after Wednesday night's 90-85 whipping of Muhlenberg, have rolled over eight straight opponents with a versatile starting lineup that scales down by stages from 6-8 to 5-9. The schedule hasn't been overpowering, although Villanova's victims include the likes of Penn, Duke, Temple and Siena. It's more the ease with which they've whipped through it, averaging a 21-point winning margin.

Boston U. downed Springfield, 80-55, but St. Francis (Pa.) was tripped from the upbeats after bagging seven straight, 87-78 by Youngstown.

In other action Maryland clamped down Duke in an Atlantic Coast Conference test, 64-53. Kent State whipped up Toledo 58-29 in a Mid-American Conference game, and Oglethorpe dropped a 75-15 blank on West Georgia.

Texas Christian took over the Southwest Conference leadership with a 2-0 record with a 52-45 victory over Arkansas, and bury Utah, a bunch of 200-pounders plus, nipped Montana 71-69 in Sky-line Conference play.

Spring Hill, 80-72 over Murray (Ky.), and Centenary, a 87-64 upset winner over favored Tennessee Tech, reached the final of the senior bowl tournament at Mobile and play for the title tonight.

Oklahoma City, 13th ranked in the weekly AP poll, boasted its record to 3-1 by hitting half its shots in a 90-63 thumping of West Texas State, and injured Terry Backhorn came off the bench to trigger spluttering Dayton to a 57-47 decision over Duquesne, scoring four points when the Dukes threatened.

Four Teams Advance in Emmet Meet

When the St. Louis Hawks can win without much help from Bob Pettit, what's to keep them from further padding their handsome 8 1/2 game lead in the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn?

Wednesday night, Pettit, who had been averaging 28.5 points a game, scored only 11. Yet, the Hawks ran away from the Minneapolis Lakers the fourth quarter and won 80-78 at Houston.

In other games, the Boston Celtics increased their Eastern Division lead over New York to 4 1/2 games by walloping the Knicks 109-78 and the Syracuse Nationals whopped the Philadelphia Warriors 111-89. This was a doubleheader at Syracuse.

Cliff Hagan, with 22 points, was high for the Hawks. Elgin Baylor topped Minneapolis with 21.

Boston's Tom Heinsohn had 23 points. Ken Sears led New York with 16 points.

Johnny Kerr was the Syracuse star, scoring 26 points. Paul Arizin lead the Warriors' with 22.

IGY Checked the Earth Physically

By ALTON BLAESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—IGY brought the geophysical checkup in all history.

The patient—our planet earth. For 18 months, scientists probed and poked at the earth with diagnostic instruments ranging from thermometers to orbiting satellites.

They found high altitude titanic winds of 200 to 300 miles an hour, and places where the earth's skin or crust is only 2 1/2 miles thick. They charted great rivers of electricity flowing through earth crust and upper air.

These are but some early results. It may take 25 years or more to make the most significant diagnoses from the hundreds of millions of facts gathered.

IGY—the International Geophysical Year—is formally ended. But its work continues in most major aspects under the title ICC-59, meaning International Geophysical Cooperation in 1959, to extend man's knowledge of his planet.

A great ocean of air is earth's lung for human life. Rockets indicated winds of several hundred miles per hour up where the air is terribly thin and highly electrified.

By night, earth wears a halo of dim light, the airglow, which is mostly patchy and seems to occur in patches or coils, moving with average speed of 200 miles an hour at a 60-mile height, reports Dr. Franklin E. Roach of the National Bureau of Standards at Boulder, Colo.

Green airglow comes from oxygen atoms, with some yellow glow from sodium atoms. IGY scientists also detected unexpected atoms of lithium—presumably shot up by nuclear tests.

Radiation streaming from the sun, or from particles trapped magnetically above the earth, cause the Northern and Southern Lights, or auroras.

But a man-made aurora was detected with one Pacific nuclear test. Scientists theorize a blast could alter the earth's magnetic field enough to allow some trapped particles to stream down upon the earth.

Catching a great solar flare in action last Feb. 10-11, many scientists measured its varied, powerful effects upon earth.

IGY men confirmed the existence of the equatorial electrojet, a powerful electric current flowing in daylight hours only above the earth's magnetic equator. Similar currents presumably circle both Poles. They offer new insight upon solar effects on magnetic fields.

Aground, seismologists used manmade explosions and the shock signals from natural earthquakes to fill in their understanding of the earth's interior and its crust. Shocks from underground A-bomb tests offered a new tool for doing this.

Seismic soundings detected the thinnest crust of the earth yet discovered under the seas—2 1/2 miles—and also the thickest underground crust—9 miles deep.

The pull of gravity was measured over 75 per cent of the sea surface, and over vast distances on land—adding up ultimately to a far more accurate picture of the earth's gravity, and from that a better conception of the real shape of the earth.

The moon and the sun, through gravity, cause tides not only on the oceans, but also on the land—actually creating wavy bulges in the earth's crust ranging up to eight to 15 inches. On IGY, geologists were to learn how much the earth and sea tides may be in phase.

IGY is helping to satisfy man's curiosity about his world, and stimulates his curiosity the more. It promises to confer great benefits, not only material, but far beyond.

For as Harvard astronomer Dr. Fred Whipple remarked: "Securing a better concept of what life means in the universe might lead humans to settle their differences."

NEW MOVES in Spa Gambling Situation

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—New moves were rumored today in this resort city's battle over gambling that has resulted in the closing of two bookmaking establishments and charges of political maneuvering.

The Citizens and the White Front clubs were padlocked by court order yesterday, brightening speculation of a political war over control of gambling.

The two clubs were on a list of establishments Sheriff Leonard Ellis ordered to cease gambling operations by Monday. Other clubs which also operate gambling were not mentioned.

Prosecutor Walter J. Hebert said all other establishments on the list had closed voluntarily.

The Hot Springs New Era reported that the places ordered to close apparently were owned by persons who supported opponents of Ellis and Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs in last year's elections.

Hebert, however, denied that the closings were political reprisals.

The New Era said moves might be made by owners of the closed establishments against places allowed to remain open.

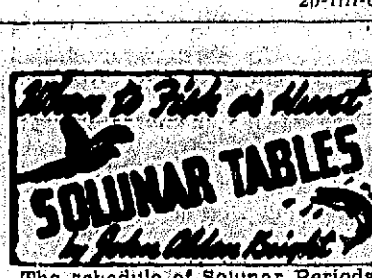

The newspaper said C. C. McLean, a justice of the peace, obtained a number of search warrants from Circuit Clerk Sharon Hilliard, declaring he acted at the request of a "group of citizens interested in the situation."

Later, Justice of the Peace Elza Young said he had received complaints of illegal gambling and the sale of mixed drinks against seven places not included in the sheriff's warrant to close.

Young said that if local officials do not act against the clubs he may call upon State Police to serve warrants.

City's Residents Boil Drinking Water
(AP) — The 25,000 residents of this city in western New York state boiled their drinking water today after ice sludge in the Niagara River blocked the main water system intake.

Schools were closed and many business establishments curtailed operations when Mayor John F. Kopynski declared a state of emergency Wednesday.

Engineers were attempting to melt the ice sludge and Wednesday night had restored water pressure to about two-thirds of normal. But emergency measures, including the use of pumps to bypass the blocked intake, remained in force.

Officials said contamination from the ground surrounding water mains and from nearby sewer lines could have seeped in while the mains were empty.

Overeating May Damage Arteries

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Too much eating rather than too much eating of this food or that food, may well be the real cause of premature hardening of arteries and consequent premature death, in the view of a scientist specializing in the aging processes of the human body.

Dr. Chester Solez, urged members of the American Geriatrics Society to set their research guns on testing the ancient saying that it is possible to dig one's grave with a knife and fork. Science has gone along with that idea in a general way but has never paid much attention to seeking out the whys and wherefores.

It should seek them out and at once, said Solez, because there is evidence over-eating shortens life, although the evidence is in bits and pieces scattered through the accumulated knowledge of medical science. In his opinion, over-eating can keep the body's machinery from turning out new tissue to replace old tissue — constantly overwhelmed.

Inferior Tissue Results.
This leads to the machinery turning out inferior tissue, which means blood vessel walls thinner in a way that causes them to degenerate before they should. Moreover, "If the dietary over-indulgence consists of 'empty calories,' even worse tissue is formed," he said.

The most common source of "empty calories" is alcoholic beverages.

Solez was concerned with the chemical activations of the bodily machinery which construct new tissue to replace old. These are enzymes which get the build-up chemistry into motion step-by-step, and the hormones which regulate both the speed and the amount of the motion.

In certain people the supply of one of these enzymes and hormones may be limited at best and the result of over-eating "is a relative or absolute shortage." Insulin, for example, is a hormone produced by the pancreas gland and failure of the pancreas to produce enough of it results in diabetes. Solez argued that insulin deficiency in an individual could cause deterioration of tissue and degeneration of arteries before it was recognizable diabetes, if it was.

Can Upset Balances

Another hormone he suspected of being involved in artery hardening is the one secreted by the adrenal glands which counters the building up of proteins for body repair. When all is well, this hormone is useful because it prevents an over supply. But if there is too much of it being secreted, there is an under-supply of protein and resultant damage to arteries. Over-eating could so upset the intricate balances among hormones and enzymes as to cause a relative surplus of this hormone.

It wasn't so long ago, Solez said, that many medical scientists held that too much fat in the diet caused hardening of the arteries. Then the opinion switched and a deficiency of the unsaturated fats in the diet was suspected of being an important cause. The true answer isn't as simple as that because there is "a wide variety of factors involved."

Over-eating is one factor but it "is especially important, since it is controllable," he said.

1950 Bolivia Club Friday

The home of Mrs. J. B. Hesterly was the scene for the meeting of the 1950 Bolivia Club on Friday afternoon. Potted plants were placed at points of vantage in the rooms staged for the players.

High score honors were won by Mrs. W. P. Cummings. A salad and dessert course was served to Mrs. C. G. Gordon, Mrs. J. V. Fore, Mrs. E. M. Sharp, Mrs. Imon Gee, Mrs. Homer Ward, Mrs. Jim Yancey, Mrs. A. W. Hudson and Mrs. Cummings.

Miss Phillips Is Honored

Miss Margaret Leese Phillips, bride-elect of Robert Franklin Burnside, was honored with a coffee given by Mrs. Watson White Jr. and Miss Lillie Butcher on Friday in the home of the former.

Mrs. White greeted guests and presented them to Miss Phillips & Mrs. Leroy Phillips, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. Velma Burnside of El Dorado, mother of the groom elect.

The living room mantel was adorned with red styrofoam cupids flanked by white mums filled with red Chinese holly. An arrangement of white mums was placed on an antique gold table and the coffee table held an arrangement of Chinese holly berries.

The honoree was lovely in a beige cashmere sheath dress. Her coverage was of white featured mums interspersed with red satin hearts, a gift from the hostesses, who also presented her with a pair of English china vases.

In the dining room the table was covered with an heirloom crocheted cloth over red. White candles in crystal holders flanked an antique tall frosted compote filled with white mums. Mrs. Edward Bryson

Seeks to Block Proposed New Baptist Church

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Attorney Kenneth C. Coffelt said today he probably would seek a court injunction to block establishment of a new Southern Baptist church adjacent to the Little Rock church of segregationist Rev. Wesley Pruden.

Coffelt said he would ask a restraining order on grounds that Baptist mission money would be used in creating a church competitive to another which contributes to the fund.

The attorney was retained yesterday by E. A. Lauderdale, a director of the Capital Citizens Council, of which Pruden is immediate past president.

Pruden said today Lauderdale was not a member of his church, but had initiated the action as a Baptist interested in preventing waste of Baptist funds.

Pruden said the Rev. O. C. Robinson, a paid employee of the Pulaski County Baptist Assn., was leading the move to establish the competing church.

Pruden said Robinson threatened such action several months ago after he invited Pruden to withdrawn himself and his church from the Southern Baptist Convention.

Pruden said he declined. He said Robinson then told him "we'll get you out then."

"I want to make it clear that I am not a party to this suit," Pruden said.

"This move against me is an attempt to hush me on the race question. The top leadership of the Southern Baptist Convention is moulding the convention toward integration, but I intend to fight this movement within the convention, rather than outside of it."

Pruden said Baptists all over the state were dissatisfied that their mission money would be used in such a manner.

"Robinson told me when he asked me to get out that he had nothing against my character or doctrinal position," Pruden said.

"This move clearly has been made only because of my stand on segregation."

DELAYED DRINKS

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (P) — In 1942 Joseph Skatula stuck a note in a bottle and left it in Big Goose Canyon deep in the Big Horn mountains of northern Wyoming.

It said: "I'll buy a drink for whoever finds this." Orville Wright and Darrell Shafer found the bottle during the big game hunting season this fall. They went to Sheridan and found Skatula. They got their drink.

and Rendondo Beach where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Milo Crane Jr. and San Diego where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gough. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Roseboro in Tucson, Ariz. and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Landers in Dallas, Tex.

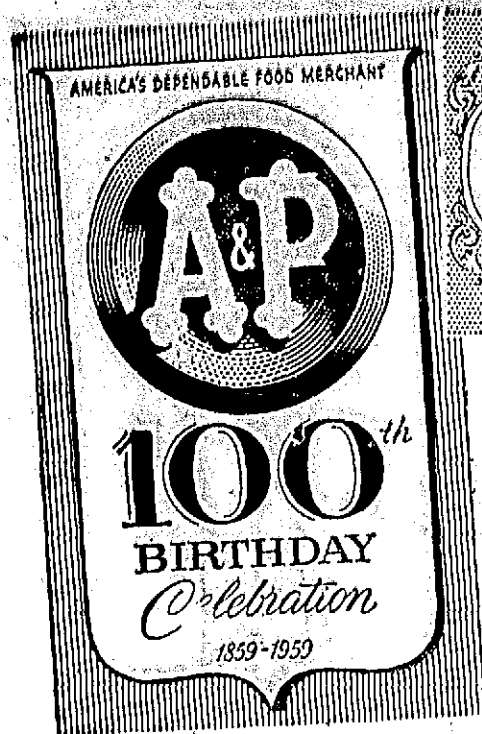

Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Bensberg, Cass and Priscilla and Mrs. E. L. Cass of Marshall, Mo. were the guests of friends Sunday. Rev. Bensberg was the former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church

Pvt. Johnny Langley has returned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McKenzie and Jim.

Mrs. Everett Procter Jr. and sons, Ken, Rick and Doug of Wynne were the weekend guests of Mrs. Lee Montgomery and Mrs. Lucy Lee Cruse. They were accompanied by Mark Cruse who has been their guest the past two weeks.

Friends will be interested to know that Bob Robertson, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Gus McCaskill, was ordained a deacon in the Pulaski Heights Presbyterian Church in Little Rock Sunday.

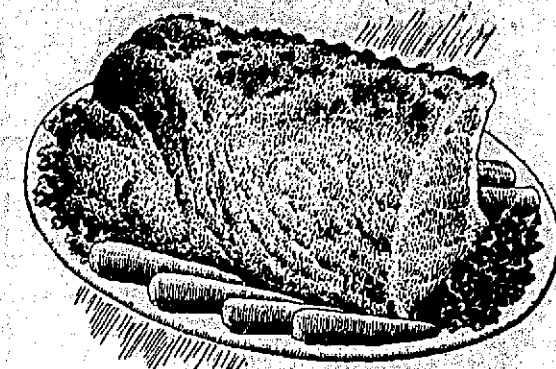

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pledgers of Phoenix, Ariz. announce the arrival of a daughter, Mae Frances, on Dec. 31. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bemis of Prescott are the maternal grandparents.

THREE FACES OF LOVE

Chapter XXXIV

Poor kid, he thought. The girl in the garden, the girl in the church with the open, wondering look of complete happiness, the girl who regarded him from a hospital bed with imploring eyes, the girl who, that second time, had exhibited such funny, amusing, astonishment, as well as Emmy, the girl with whom these many years he had talked, eaten, laughed, quarreled, slept, whose narrow throat he could sometimes cheerfully cut, and for whom he could cut his own if necessary.

His girl; the girl grown into a woman.

This he had achieved, he thought with an upsurging of pride—not that girls don't grow into women, sometimes by themselves, God ever help them—but this inner woman was of his shaping. NO. She was shaped to their love.

So now he was quiet, with a magazine in his hands and before his eyes the print, of which he saw no word or sentence. He was, stripping his wife of her sweet, familiar flesh down to her bones; he was laying bare the delicate skeleton, the secret, wonderful processes of her mind, and looking into her heart. He was seeing her in her essential, something deeper than pulse or flow of blood, more profound than the five senses. He was looking at her in relation to himself and to their marriage—which isn't, exactly, the same—and to Emmy. He was also trying to look at her in relation to herself.

(This was a wonderful woman; never the most beautiful, certainly not the most brilliant, not the most anything, except herself. Looking at her in this way was painful because it meant surgery, as if they were Siamese twins, separated yet joined; this was cutting himself away from her to see her as an entity apart, complete, and yet complete only because of him and because of Emmy, who was part of him.)

A door shut; there were voices; the nurse came in and spoke to the woman, who went with her controlled face and unquiet hands into the doctor's private office.

Adam looked at the magazine. He did not see the article open before him, he saw a personal parade.

Events, people, places.

If anything happens? That, is it if it is my heart and serious? He tried to adjust himself to the idea of being unable to accomplish as usual; to do far less; to resting, to being watched, to and begin at the beginning. But in small ways? He knew exactly what she'd say, almost, he laughed again. She'd say with her quick smile, and her cautious eyes laughing, "Don't tell me you've mellowed!" Still, she might like it.

Driving to the station Hope had asked to casually, "You want me to write Helen?" And he had almost shouted, "For Heaven's sake, no; there's nothing to write about!"

Temperatures Diminish in Many Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Higher temperatures and diminishing winds were expected to provide some relief—but not much—today for the Eastern Seaboard battered by icy gales and chilled by frigid cold since Monday.

Violent winds, with gusts up to 75 m.p.h., put below-zero teeth into the bitter bite of subfreezing weather again Tuesday as they continued to cause widespread damage.

Today, the Weather Bureau in Washington said, winds would diminish to 20 to 30 m.p.h. along the northern portion of the coast while blowing relatively light in the southern section. Rising temperatures may reach a high of 25 to 30 degrees in some areas.

Numerous fires, spawned in the battle against the cold and fed by the winds, claimed nearly 20 lives Tuesday from West Virginia to New England.

Winds whistled through most of the Northeast at a steady 40 m.p.h. The Weather Bureau said winds of that speed in five-degree temperatures created the effect of 30-below cold in a light wind. Temperatures sank below zero in points from New York to Maine and were below freezing all the way to northern Florida. The mercury dropped to 35 during the night in Miami.

Two men died of exposure in Baltimore as a man froze to death in Massachusetts and three deaths were blamed on the weather in Pennsylvania.

High winds brought down chimneys, trees and power lines, shattered stove and houses windows, tore off roofs and spilled pedes-trians. A powerful gust blow over an empty trailer-tractor on the New Jersey Turnpike, injuring the driver.

Fires burned up hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of commercial buildings as well as

Prairie Grove Bank Damaged by Fire

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Farmers and Merchants Bank at the nearby Prairie Grove was heavily damaged by fire which raged out of control for more than an hour last night.

The upper floor of the two-story brick building, in the heart of Prairie Grove's business district, was destroyed and the lower floor was badly damaged.

There was no monetary estimate of the loss.

Firemen said they didn't believe any damage had been done to contents of the vault, which could not be opened until Wednesday morning because of a time lock.

Origin of the fire was believed to be in a second floor room which housed the building's heating and air conditioning equipment.

Adjoining buildings were protected by a fire wall and were not damaged.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt died on April 12, 1945.

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

OUR NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION TO YOU

Happy New Year to everyone in Hope from all of us at the telephone company.

Since this is the season for resolutions, I thought you might want to know a little bit more about a resolution that we try to follow 365 days a year in providing telephone service to you and your neighbors.

Here it is...

We Define Our Objectives

"Our objective is to furnish the best possible telephone service at reasonable cost—a cost consistent with financial safety and fair treatment of employees."

"Service ranks above everything else in this policy. And the only good service is one that is continually improving. To furnish this service we need the best people, the best equipment, the best methods, and the best management we can develop."

"Reasonable cost has been defined as one that produces an ever-growing public demand. Our equipment, training, and methods would net us nothing if the cost of service became so high that people would not buy it."

"Financial safety should not be endangered by setting the price of service too low. In the long run, a price that provides profit enough to undertake new research and development results in better cheaper service to the public."

"Fair treatment of employees means good pay, good working conditions, reasonable job security, and opportunity for advancement based on merit. It is people—employees who are the most important element in the success of any business."

We Accept These Responsibilities

"To the employees... provide machines, methods, equipment, direction, leadership, job training, incentives to progress, selection for promotion."

"To the public... more and better service at a reasonable cost. Contributions to public welfare and national defense."

"To the owners... run business in a sound, profitable manner."

Looking Ahead

"Progress has long been the keynote of the telephone business. And, if business forecasters are anywhere near correct the next 20 years will bring more growth and development than we have ever seen before."

"The future can be faced confidently with a policy of equal consideration for owners, employees, and the public."

That's probably the longest resolution you've ever heard about, but it takes a lot of effort to give you the best in telephone service.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
